

Security Services provided by Corporate Aviation Security International

In today's environment, security is a necessary concern for business aviation departments. Evolving threats range from property theft and senseless destruction to kidnapping, violence, attempted hijackings, or worse. Threats can emanate from common street thugs, cartels and other organized crime, terror and activist groups, even from inside your own organization. Effectively countering those threats requires increasing awareness and understanding the real-time atmospheric where you are and where you're going. It compels training personnel and preparing thoroughly to make your people and assets unattractive targets. In many locations, you will need trusted support close at hand to monitor, advise and support your team.

The Corporate Aviation Security International ("CASI") team is comprised of experienced professionals who bring the latest tactics, techniques and procedures from law enforcement, the armed forces, private industry, and government agencies. Team experience includes military and corporate aviation, special operations, intelligence, maritime and underwater operations, executive protection, emergency medical response, training, and more. CASI provides security solutions for corporate and private flight departments under three main categories of services: Assessments – Training – Consulting.

Security Assessment of Aviation Facilities by CASI

This option helps your organization better understand and strengthen the security posture of your aviation assets, personnel, and activities in your home operational locales. A U.S.-based CASI security professional will conduct an on-site security assessment of your hangar, airfield, or operations base(s). A confidential written report is provided, supported by a videoconference briefing (if requested and based on CASI Team availability) to answer questions and discuss recommendations to mitigate vulnerabilities noted.

CASI offers assessments for $6480 plus assessor travel expenses. This Performance Vector offer provides a $2500 subsidy toward that cost, leaving $3980 plus assessor travel expense to be paid by the policyholder. Travel cost is computed and quoted by CASI during pre-assessment planning. Assessment of locations outside the U.S. are possible at additional policyholder cost.

About CASI

Corporate Aviation Security International, LLC (CASI) is a veteran-owned and operated security service provider for business aviation. Headquartered in Colorado, CASI is an expert security team comprised of top tier former international special operations leaders, military pilots, and law enforcement veterans. Our teammates have conducted overt and covert operations during combat and peacetime around the globe, flown extensive combat missions, and have protected and transported non-government organizations' (NGOs') personnel with a 100% duty of care. Furthermore, our teammates have provided executive protection for U.S. Ambassadors, Congressional delegates, dignitaries, and Fortune executives. CASI maintains a robust global network of vetted and trusted partners who support our international operations and missions. Learn more at casiprotects.com.